Claire Gallagher

Client Services Manager

Financial Strategies Group

Claire is a native New Yorker but has lived in the Weston area for over 20 years, raising her 3 children. Her oldest daughter, a NYU graduate, now lives and works in NYC. Her son is a junior at UF studying sustainability, and her youngest daughter is a high school senior preparing to study media in college. Her career started in the commercial banking industry, and after returning to the workplace, Claire has gained several years' experience in the medical profession and customer service.

In her spare time, Claire enjoys spending time travelling with family & friends to new cities. Her personal interests include photography and gardening.
